

Add New Adult (Invite Family) – 4 Options

*This document will show the 4 different ways Troop leaders (or those with permission to add new adults) can invite a new family into Trail Life USA using Trail Life Connect. These methods will only work for individuals who are new to Trail Life USA and do not already have accounts somewhere in the Trail Life Connect system.

First, navigate to the left menu in Trail Life Connect and expand “My Troop” to reveal the option to “Add New Adult.”

The resulting “Register new adults with your Troop” screen will display the 4 possible options for adding a new adult to your Troop. Each option is covered below, in its own section.

Option 1: Self-Register via Text Message

The screenshot shows the Trail Life web interface. The top navigation bar includes the Trail Life logo, a menu icon, the Troop ID "GA-0000", and the user profile "William Tentpeg". The left sidebar contains navigation options: Dashboard, Announcements, Profile, My Troop (selected), Troop Members, Add New Adult, Initiate Leader Registration, and Transfer Member. The main content area is titled "Register new adults with your Troop" and features a sub-header "Invite adult to self-register via text message". Below this, there is a text box with instructions: "Please enter the mobile number of a parent you would like to invite to your Troop. The parent will receive an SMS message with a link which will allow them to self-register and join your Troop. This process will create a new household. Once they complete the registration, they will be able to log into Trail Life Connect and register their sons. If you want to add an adult to an existing household or via email invitation, please use the form below this one." A form field labeled "Cell Phone *" is present, with a note below it: "Please enter only valid cell phone numbers." At the bottom of the form is a green button labeled "Send Invitation by Text Message".

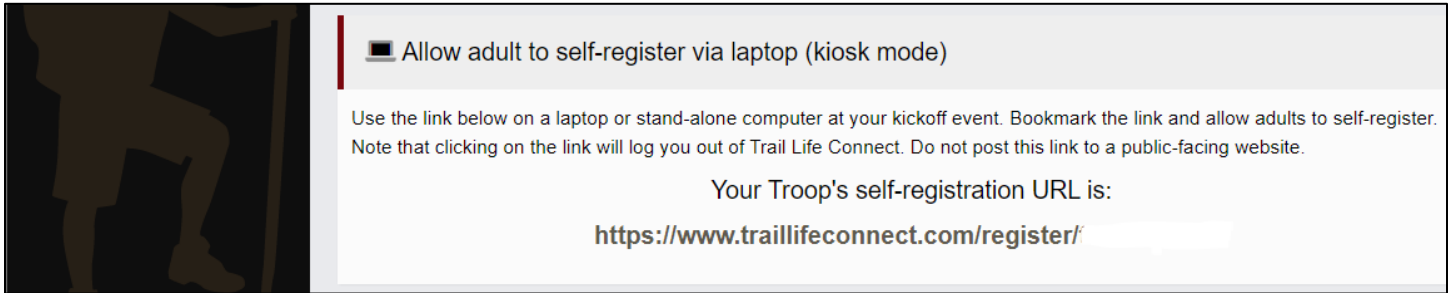

For this option, all that is needed is the mobile phone number of the individual who wishes to sign up. You will enter the 10-digit number, and then click the button to "Send Invitation by Text Message." The individual will receive the text message on their device, which will contain a link they can click to take them to a page where they can self-register directly with your Troop.

Option 2: Email New Adult to Register with Trail Life Connect

The screenshot shows the Trail Life web interface. The top navigation bar includes the Trail Life logo, a menu icon, the Troop ID "GA-0000", and the user profile "William Tentpeg". The left sidebar contains navigation options: Member Prospects (1), Advancement, Documents, Communication, Troop Settings, and Help. The main content area is titled "Email new adult to register with Trail Life Connect" and features a sub-header "Email new adult to register with Trail Life Connect". Below this, there is a text box with instructions: "Please enter the name and email address of the new adult you are inviting to Trail Life USA. They will receive an email with instructions for registering in Trail Life Connect. If they are a parent, they can then add and register their sons as well as becoming eligible to be invited to be a Trail Life USA leader." There are three form fields: "First Name *", "Last Name *", and "Email *". Below the "Email *" field is a note: "Please type the email address carefully. It will be their primary login ID with Trail Life Connect." There is a dropdown menu labeled "Add To Existing Household" with the option "Create new household." selected. At the bottom of the form is a green button labeled "Add New Adult & Send Email".

For this option, you will enter the First Name, Last Name, and Email address of the adult you wish to add to your Troop. If this is a new family, leave the default "Household" option set to "Create new household." If you are adding an additional adult to an existing Household, you can select that Household from the list of existing Households within your Troop. When all the information is correct, click the "Add New Adult & Send Email" button. The individual will receive an email message that they have been added to the Troop. The email message will contain a link for them to navigate to Trail Life Connect for setting a password and logging in for the first time to update their profile information.

Option 3: Self-Register via Laptop (or Kiosk Mode)

■ Allow adult to self-register via laptop (kiosk mode)

Use the link below on a laptop or stand-alone computer at your kickoff event. Bookmark the link and allow adults to self-register. Note that clicking on the link will log you out of Trail Life Connect. Do not post this link to a public-facing website.

Your Troop's self-registration URL is:

<https://www.traillifeconnect.com/register/>

This option is perfect for a Troop meeting or Open House, if you have a laptop or similar tablet device available. You will want to save/bookmark the link shown – the link is specific to each individual Troop. You can then use the laptop or tablet to allow adults to self-register on the spot, without waiting for a text or email link. *It is best to close out and/or log out of each registration session (and also ensure someone else is not already logged in with a Trail Life Connect account) before each new adult registers. This will prevent adults from accidentally registering within the Household of another family, and prevent related technical issues. Having the link bookmarked, or saved as a direct link on the desktop, will save time in pulling up the registration page for each new adult who wishes to register.

Option 4: Scan QR Code

Next to the kiosk mode option, you will find a QR Code which is unique to your Troop. For those with phones or devices that can scan QR codes, this can also be used to allow an individual to scan the code which will bring them to a page that will allow the new member to self-register with your Troop.

The Kiosk Mode registration link and QR Code should not be posted to any public-facing website.

Final Note

It is important to understand that an adult registration in Trail Life Connect is the first step for a new family joining your Troop. This initial registration only creates a system account for the adult within Trail Life Connect. Once logged in, the adult (Parent/Guardian) can add one or more sons to their Household in the Troop. The adult account will begin receiving Troop communications and will also have access to valuable resources. Establishing a Trail Life Connect adult/parent account is also necessary before the adult can be invited to register for other Troop leadership.
